3-12 NOVEMBER 2015 | RUSTAVI, GEORGIA

23 FEB-2 MAR 2016 | BRNO, CZECH REP.

OUR AIM is to raise the efficiency of the local and international activities fighting against hate speech and hate in all its forms, especially those that are targeting young people and mainly in the on-line environment.

Supported by:

Hate is not our fate is a 3 PHASE TRAINING COURSE taking place in Georgia and in the Czech republic.

The project is an outcome of the long-term cooperation of the partner organizations on the topic of Hate Speech on-line.

We want to provide the youth leaders and youth workers with the competences to interpret and understand the hate speech as a FORM OF VIOLENCE and to work systematically in their communities.

They should become able to FIGHT AGAINST, PREVENT and OPPOSE hate speech and its impacts on the society.

We also react on the long-term dangerous trends and recent events happening in Europe such as rise of xenophobia, islamophobia, hate and intolerance based on ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation and other types of radicalism.
